I'm really not ready for school to start. I didn't get half the things done I wanted to.

Aw, I'm so tired of working that it'll be a relief to get back to school.

But, I really hate to see all the good times end. Well, it's always good to see everyone again. Yeah, I guess.

I'm sick of school already. It's all work and no play.
Well, I hate to sound like your Mother, but what you need is to get involved.

But what is there to do? WHAT IS THERE TO DO!?!

I have two club meetings today, an article to write for the Crow's Nest, and I have to sell Operation Pride packages tomorrow.

Hey, weren't you the guy that didn't have anything to do? Yeah, well — I wanted to get out of homeroom.

Sure you did. And that's why you go to meetings almost every night.

So, what? Can't a guy enjoy helping his school without being prosecuted?

You've got that look in your eye. What are you thinking about? Oh, nothing special. By the way, who is that new football player? Yeah, I thought your mind wasn't on the game.

Where have you been? I've looked all over for you.

I've been right here all the time.

Let's go somewhere where we can talk. I have something to tell you.

that math test today?

What's wrong? Didn't you study?

Well ... I was sorta busy this weekend.

I've heard that story before.

As man steps into the future, his goals become more attainable.

A basic essential in every life is preparation for the future.

For this reason we dedicate the 1970 CARAVEL to the future of the Berry High School student body.

EVENTS

Student Council Elections

Vote, vote, vote, that's all I heard those two weeks. And the halls looked like some kind of paper truck crashed into the school. But it sure felt good not to have to worry about where to throw your trash.

I'm surprised that they finally got around to actually voting. And now every time I hear the word "vote," it sounds strange for some reason.

It is almost time for elections again. It was kind of fun working on the campaign posters, but it was hard work for the candidates.

You really have to admit all the officers that were elected did a good job, and they sure did try their best, even when the snack bar was closed in January. They never seemed to lose their cool for one second. Well, I sure am glad that all that election mess is over. I would hate to be involved again.

Hey, Mary, I'm going to run for President. Would you be my campaign manager?

(OPPOSITE PAGE BELOW) Tom Buck, President; Dave Acton, 1st Vice-President; Wayne Boren, 2nd Vice-President. (BELOW) Kay Ponder, Chaplain. (BOTTOM) Lane Ogletree, Secretary; Richard Blankenship, Treasurer; Beth Chapman, Historian.

Let me make this perfectly clear.

Homecoming '69

Let me have a sip of your coke.

This is a great game! Hey, we intercepted their pass. Run, all the way!

Here, hush, they're starting to announce the float - hey just a sip.

Third place is the Concert Choir, second place is the F.H.A. and first place is the Senior Art Club.

Drat, our float didn't – watch it, you're spilling coke down my leg.

Would you get me another coke?

The freshman attendant is Donna Duval, the sophomore attendant is Fran Jerkins, the junior attendant is Laura Owens and the senior attendant is Patricia Black. The 1969 Homecoming Queen is Esther Smith.

Esther looks great! Oh, thanks for the coke.

Are you going to the dance? The Second Warning is play-

If you'll get me a date I'll -Forget it!

Sr. Art Club wins float competition again.

Look what Manny's wearing!

A new addition to the Homecoming parade.

Tense moments make an exciting game.

College Day

Gee, I don't know which college to go to. I hope I can get a scholarship, or I'll be cutting the corners.

Maybe you COULD get a scholarship. What'd you make on the A.C.T. Test? Well, forget the scholarship. Let's see, I could go here. They've got a swimming pool,

What degrees do they give there?

I don't know, I'll find that out later. The boy-girl ratio is great and that's what counts. You could go to Miami or Tennessee.

I don't want to go out of state.

You could go to Auburn or Alabama.

I don't want to go out of the city.

Well, Mama's boy, stay home! No, it's not that, it's just that cute Junior cheerleader.

TOP TEN FINALISTS: June McGlamery, Wathan Williams, Donna Proctor, Julie Truss, Patricia Black, Shannon Lantz, Lindsey Parsons, Debbie Gardner, Beth Chapman, Judy Naugle.

Senior Beauty Walk

Oh no, we can't go in yet, I left the car lights on. I'll be back in a few minutes.

Well, it took you long enough to turn off the lights! They've already started.

Really? Well, I locked the car door on my coat and dropped the keys when I tripped down the stairs and . . .

Okay, okay, sit down and be quiet. What a date!

You sure had a good idea coming here.

Why'

Look at all those good-looking girls!

I'm not so sure this was a good idea. I'm thirsty.

I'm watching the Beauty Walk.

I'm dying for a coke.

All right, all right... Thanks heaps, you made me miss the announcement of the top ten.

What a shame!

Huh?

Nothing . . . I'm really hungry, please get me a candy bar.

I won't see Miss Senior Class being crowned.

Oh, I'm so hungry. Come on, just one candy bar . . . You missed it. Tricia Black got Miss Senior Class, Shannon Lantz got first alternate, and Julie Truss got second alternate. I really enjoyed the Beauty Walk.

I wouldn't know. For some reason you kept me occupied.

Sandi Johns models her casual outfit.

National Honor Society

Those candles sure do look good, but they're watching them so much I'm afraid they're going to trip.

Don't the decorations look nice. The trellis is so pretty, covered with holly and all.

I know I won't get tapped. Here come some members. I bet you'll be tapped.

If I got tapped, I'd just cry.

No, you wouldn't.

Yes, I would. I'd just cry and . . .

You wouldn't, they're coming up this way.

I'd just cry and my eye make-up would run all over,

They're coming on our row . . . Congratulations!!! Hey, she's crying.

Helen, what is Mrs. Swindle putting in her punch?

(TOP): STANDING: Scott Chramer, Marilyn Crain, Harry Caldwell. SEATED: Pam Andrews, Claudia McCurdy, Allison Harris, Marjie Mitchell.

Buccaneer Day

Watch that girl, girls are so dumb. Hey you! Huh? Carry my books. Drop dead! I'll call the marshall! Whew, I'm really scared. I'll see you in Kangaroo Court.

Let's sit over here, oh-oh, they called your name.

Well, I'm not going - hey, put me down - come on ya'll. You wouldn't throw that pie now, would you?

SPLAT!!

Put that dogfood down. Stay away! I'm warning you! Don't throw it,

Hey, look! That girl's setting the record for the 50-yard dash.

A Variety of Events

Remember the football game when Mr. Edwards was made the head Buc? It seems so long ago.

Not to me. It seems like everything passed so quickly. First, it was football season and Homecoming. I'll never forget the time when Shawn played the organ at that assembly.

Uh-huh, and the time when Kathy Garver spoke to us about the March of Dimes. I bet Wayne remembers that!

Did you know that our school debate team was host to the debate tournament? Schools from all over Alabama came, including Indian Springs School and you know what type of students go there — WOW.

What about the time right before Christmas? Didn't it

I believe so, but not many of us saw the snow 'cause certain teachers closed the blinds . . . that is, all the blinds except the ones up front near their desks.

Why don't we protest or something?

It's too late now . . . it's not going to snow in May.

Shawn Muir plays for an assembly.

Governor Brewer speaks to an attentive audience.

Wayne Boren welcomes Kathy Garver (T.A.P. Chairman) to Big Orange Country.

Berry hosts the Annual Novice Debate Tournament.

SPORTS

The Year of the BIG ORANGE!

Bud Stevens runs for more yardage against John Carroll.

We're the greatest, Look and see, We're the class of '70. Get that shaker out of my face. Watch out. We missed the P.A.T.

I hope this won't be a re-run of last years game with us behind.

Aren't you an optimist, besides Mark Thompson just scored and it's only first quarter.

Get that stupid shaker out of my face.

The Thompson twins sure do know how to rule the field.

I'm glad I brought my umbrella, I think it's scaring off the rain.

Get that lousy shaker out of my face; Stephens just scored!

Poor Tom Buck, he is so little and they are so big. Poor Mt. Brook, I'd rather be hit by a Mac truck.

Billy Lee just recovered a pitch out! They can't do anything against our defense. Did you see Fuller's punt return, he scored!

The reason they can't do much against our defense is because most of our defense are seniors.

Please get rid of that shaker! 18-0 we really held them, Let's go. Why did you break my shaker?

Hold it coach, everything you say in this ear, comes out this one.

Boy, if they catch me . . .

There she is; go talk to her, you've been waiting for your chance to ask her out . . .

Yeah, but what do I say to her; she wouldn't want to talk to someone like me, not someone like her.

Go on, talk to her about Friday night's game, go. Uh, hi ya Dora, um, um, did you, um, go to the game?

Oh, hi, Bruce. Yes, I went, we really beat them, didn't we?

Sure did, five different people scored touchdowns; Charlie Patten, Bud Stephens, Rusty Fuller, Tom Buck, and Randy Wallis took a pass from Jay Wells from the 28-yard line.

Boy, you're smart Bruce! Tell me more.

Well, Steve Mobley made an interception . . . What about extra points?

After the first touchdown kick missed, we made four conversions, but one pass failed.

You must be the smartest boy a-

Well, I try. Hey, Dora, would you like to go out Friday?

No.

Next?

All-State Fuller around the end against Banks.

(BELOW) Hey, wait on me.

We Beat Banks!!!

Hey, have a seat! What time did ya'll leave? Oh, we left about 4:30.

Really? We left about 3:30. I heard someone asked Mr. Edwards if he could get out of school at 2:00 to leave. Let me see; who was it?

Time for the kickoff; at least we won the toss.

First quarter sure is boring.

Boring my foot, Berry just fumbled.

Oh, no! Banks just scored and the kick is . . . is . . . darn it! It's good. Banks won't let us get out of our own 30.

But we don't let them far in our territory. It's nothing but 1,2,3, punt back and forth. They are really matched well.

I wish I could remember who it was who asked Mr. Edwards. Maybe it was Robby. Oh, here's the kickoff; go Bucs go!

That's going to be a big play in the game; his runback has pulled us out of our own

Who was that guy, John or James?

Bud has really gone on a passing spree, go!

4th and goal to go. Send Hawkins in for a field goal. It's good!

Maybe it was Jack, yeah, no. It had to be Robert.

The second half looks a lot like the first: punt, run, punt, and run.

We've just got a little time. 2 minutes left to score

Andy Steele recovered the fumble on Banks' 30 yard line. 4th down and 27 to go. T.D.! Bud passed through four gigantic Banks players right into Mike Thompson's

Maybe it was Joe or George.

Shut-up, it was me. Now celebrate - we just beat the unbeatable, terrifying Banks.

Thompson in the end zone . . . The catch that beat Banks.

Berry Grounds Gophers

Hey, June, you feeling better? Sorry you had to miss the game but I'll tell you all about it.

Was it as exciting as last year's 6-0 victory?

No, it ...

May I have your attention please . . .

Be quiet intercom . . . Bobby Linn, please see Mr. Smith. Well, anyway . . .

What?

I wish they would remember to turn off the intercom, I can't hear. There, it's off. Well, we won 27-0, which was great!

That's more than we have ever beaten

Charlie Patten and Bud Stephens . . . I have a car that must be moved . . . They scored touchdowns . . .

It's a red car.

That's nice, anyway Rusty scored

Would somebody move this car? They have Rusty Fuller blocked and he has to go to the dentist.

Well, for heaven's sake, move the car! Anyway, Hawkins made an extra point. We really beat them!

What's everyone laughing about? Mr. Galloway just tore the speaker off the wall.

Buck goes for 15 yards against Erwin.

3 More Victories!

I can't write this copy for the annual. I can't think of anything to say.

Well, what do you want to say? You know, the regular stuff. About how after 2 plays and all, but I can't think of a conversation I could imagine between two people.

How about 2 parents talking about their kids?

No, I don't think so. Parents only talk about their own kids. How could I fit in that we held them to 55 yards rushing.

I guess you are right. How about a conversation between two fleas?

With all my luck, they would get stepped on in the middle of the copy.

I don't know. Let me see, what happened at the game? Well, Mike Thompson, Stevens, and Patton all scored.

Say, Bill Hawkins was asking me to be sure and tell you to put in the copy that he kicked a field goal.

I can't think of anything to say!

I guess I will just leave the copy for Minor out of the annual.

Our scrambling quarterback, Bud Stevens, goes for yardage.

Mobley runs in an open field.

They said I had bad breath.

Bucs Trampled Tarrant

Hey, Carol, you got a date?

Yeah, he's gone to get me something to drink.

You mean all the way over there to get you something? Yeah, I have him wrapped around my little finger. Tarrant's team looks pretty big.

Sure, but nobody can beat the Big Orange.

We receive the first kick. Ouch! They got on us quick. Bill, I dropped my shaker underneath the stands.

But we're on the top seat, Carol! . . . besides in 12 plays we went 76 yards and Thompson just scored.

They put us back in the pocket but the Big Orange is pulling themselves out.

Why are they both kicking the ball?

That's what you call an onside kick.

I wish the drummer would keep on beat while the cheerleaders cheer.

Bill, I dropped my shaker, again!

Stephens just scored!

Fullington, Lundy, and Steele are really tearing up their offense.

There's the half and we are whooping up on them 14-0. Bill, I dropped my shaker.

Tarrant's on the 27.

They've got to punt.

Yea! Fuller just ran 41 yards on a punt return and scored 6 points.

That makes 3 so far this year.

Bill, I dropped . . .

I know, I know, but if you drop it again you're going after it!

It's sort of funny how the students are on one side of the band and their parents on the other.

The last quarter has turned into nothing but a band contest.

Yeah! with our band winning.

Yea! Patten just scored!

27-0, what a game! OOPS! Bill, I dropped my shakerrrrrr.

Berry Mounts Mounties

Joan, he asked me! He asked me! What?

Tommy, he asked me to go steady over the phone, before I left for the game.

That's great! Did he give you his pin?

He's going to give it to me as soon as he gets to the game; I can't wait!

That's really great, look here comes the team! They really look fired up for the game. Lyn, Lyn? What are you doing?

I've got to tell everybody about it! Betsy, Emily, guess

Oh brother, with her talking all night, this is going to be a long game.

Why isn't he here yet? Where is he Joan?

I don't know. Settle down and watch the kickoff. Fumble Shades Valley!! We stopped them with a fumble on own 28!

I wish he would get here; what time is it?

I don't have a watch. Now, settle down and enjoy the game. T.D.!!! Rusty ran 57 yards for our first score. What time is it? Why isn't he here?

I don't have a watch Lyn. Look, Bill Hawkins just got back at Rice by kicking a field goal 2 yards further than he kicked – a county record, 42 yards.

What time is it?

12:65 - I told you I didn't have a watch. Are you sure he asked you to go steady?

I'm pretty sure he did.

We're driving to break a 9-9 tie; we have 84 yards to go. But Bud has us moving — T.D.!!!

· Look over at the main entrance, here he comes! Joan, I'm going steady!

Hi Tommy!

Hi Lyn, hi Joan.

Do you have it?

Have what?

What are you talking about?

My pin . . .

Where is she going, Joan? Why is she crying?

Tommy, let me ask you something. What did you ask her over the phone?

Well, we are doubling tomorrow night and I told her that we would be going with FREDDY and at the game I would tell her WHEN.

Don't touch me!

Clinic Winners Again!

What? The band is on the field before the game? Yeah, they do a pre-game. These are probably the two best bands in the country!

Go Berry band!

Tell me when something great happens. I'm doing my chemistry homework for tomorrow.

Minor fumbled and Ruzicka recovered.

It's only the second play of the game. That's just one more play toward getting the trophy.

Hey, Don't hit me; you hit my elbow and it made me draw a line all the way across my homework.

We're on the move, 4th and we're inside the 10 yard line. Go for a touchdown!

They didn't send Hawkins in, and that means they're going to try for it.

T.D., T.D.!

Stephens ran around the right for a T.D.!

This is going to be one hard hitting game.

Buck just gained 16 yards.

I can see it now, in the office, the gigantic dental clinic trophy.

How about Thompson? He gained 17.

Well, it's half-time; let's go get a coke.

Hey, what's that drum major doing standing in the middle of the field?

He's going to sleep.

Sure! 7 drum sections at the same time with almost 700 people on the field.

The half-time was so good I could not do my chemistry.

Just one half away from getting that trophy.

Kickoff. Homer Burke has to be the fastest person alive.

Ouch, they are getting better.

Don't worry! Last time we played them, we held them to 55 yards running.

Ricky Watson just scored!

That is one Watson step toward the trophy.

This is some way to end the season.

Billy Lee just intercepted a Moore pass, shook off one tackler and raced 66 yards to score!

Hey, Hercermer, smile. The score is 18-0.

Yeah, now I'm worried about winning the trophy next year.

The Thrill of Victory

But, Mom, do I have to sit with you and Daddy and Sis?

Yes, Edward, we will come as a family and ENJOY IT, do you hear?

O.K. Here we are in beautiful Legion Field, in Birmingham, Alabama, "The football capitol of the South."

Mama, tell Edward not to talk funny. Looks like we are about to score, a pass to Fuller...

Stop being sarcastic, Eddie.

Look dear . . . They have boys selling cokes, that's good.

I wouldn't be so sure, until you have to pass them down the line.

Get ready for a great rush against the Booker T. punt. It's blocked by a huge Tim Lundy hand.

Look how bright the lights are!

Yes, beautiful Legion Field has added brighter lights to attract color T.V. and help the spectators enjoy the game.

Mama, Eddie's talking funny again. Be quiet, Edward, and pass the cokes down.

That blocked punt is going to set up another T.D. Complete to Thompson in the end zone!

We're really tearing them up! Bud has brought them back close enough for another quarterback sneak.

Here's the "Booker T. Washington Marching 100!" Looks like more than that.

Oops, another Booker T. bites the dust, 1 down, 99 to go.

Well, it's mighty famous dust. Just think of who has been on that very spot! Joe Namath, Bear Bryant Shug . . .

Be quiet, Arnold just blocked another punt and Patten went over for the touchdown!

Please pass the cokes.

Well, wasn't that fun, having fun with the family and watching a 31-0 win? Yes, Mama, can I drive home, Dad?

The Agony of Defeat

I'm so excited. I can't wait for the kick-off. Do you realize this is the first time a Birmingham team has been in the state finals?

Yeah, and this is the first time the State Championship game has been played in Birmingham. And what a turn-out!

The spirit is great tonight!

We're looking good; we are driving up for a touchdown in the first quarter.

We are in the 10 yard line.

Hand-off to Thompson, fake to Patton, fake lateral to Fuller . . .

Touchdown!! A first quarter score against Lee. We have got the Number One team! Extra point is good!!

This is the way to play football.

They keep trying but they can't move against us.

Get ready for a second quarter field goal by Bill Hawkins.

It's from 48 yards out . . . it's going, going. Ugh, it hit the cross bar and bounced back. Third quarter and they're getting close.

Lee within the 10 yard line. First try . . . second try . . . third try . . . fourth try . . . and we held them! What a goal line stance! That was fabulous.

We stopped them but they won't let us get a first down.

Oh, no, another goal line stance. Can we hold them? The big Orange held them 11 times within the 10 yard line!! And we held All-American Paul Spivey to 34 yards rushing!

It's the beginning of the 4th quarter and we're still number 1!!

Where's tonight's paper.

I've got it.

Well, I wanna' read what they said about our game last night.

Give that back! I'll read it to you.

"Heartbreaking is not a strong enough word to describe the Bucs' loss after leading well into the fourth quarter, and tears were in order with no apology necessary to anyone.

". . . the play that proved to be the winning margin for Lee's Generals was a pass that turned into a 44-yard interception.

"That one play did it," Coach Finley said, "a team effort." And even though that description is overworked, to call Berry's Thursday night game anything else would be an injustice.

"This team hasn't quit all year," Finley said, "and they didn't quit tonight. Time just ran out on them."

Basketball Starts After an Exciting Football Season

Excuse me, son, but I'm from the SHADES VALLEY SUN, and I'm covering the Shades Valley Tournament. Could you tell me something about the Berry team? Yes, sir. We are over there in the orange and white — next to the ones with the red necks.

Thanks.

We have a few very good seniors, Peek, Fuller, Stover, Kimbrough, Wells.

I know about them. What about the juniors?

Well, Sheffield and Galloway have been doing very good this season.

Who are your best shots?

Well, we don't have any real guns. But all our team does a great job.

There's Coach Gann. Go talk to him.

Thank you very much.

Any time . . . Oh, and watch out for any "golden missiles."

(BELOW) Peek, you're not supposed to kick the ball.

Don't try ballet, basketball and gargling at the same time.

Pshaw to you too!

Bucs Pinup Wrestling Season

Hey, I didn't know you went to wrestling matches.

I usually don't, but they said we could get in free with a Howdy Dowdy Pennant.

This is my first one. Look at those uniforms. The civic center is a great place to have matches. They really brought in a crowd.

They start with the lighter weight groups and then get heavier.

Watch out. Dive! Dive! Who? Me? What's wrong?

Not you, I was yelling at Richard Rew!

You mean tiny Richard's wrestling?

Yeah, but it's somebody his own weight. He's durn good, too!

Shoot it! Shoot it!

Shoot what?

You have got to learn that in wrestling you spend your time telling the man on the mat what to do. "Shoot it" means a way to pin him. Oh! I was wondering!

Boy, Gary Ruzicka looks mighty tired after that. It takes a little bit out of you to pin your man. The scores kind of confuse me, but as long as we have the higher number, I like it.

That's nice!

Look at Bill Hawkins' getting ready to wrestle heavy weight. That's my favorite.

I like to dream that I had that much strength. Well, it's over. That was fun. I think I will go to the next one, too.

Yeah, I think if people would come to one match, they would see how great it really is.

May I have the next dance?

Scratch a little more to the left.

Hey, Spot, what are you doing way up here? Did your master bring you? Yeah, Fido, I have been around in the house all day, and he thinks I'm not getting enough exercise. Ever since he joined the track team, my master has been a health nut.

What goes on up here, anyway?

They are having track practice. The humans run around the dumb track for nothing at all.

Sort of like chasing squirrels without the squirrels, huh? What is that guy doing over there with that big bone?

Oh, that's Kent Fullington pole vaulting. Who is the big guy that looks like a beagle?

Oh, That's Coach Williams, the track coach; let's go bite him, heh, heh! Are these humans very good at this track deal?

Sure, they had a 4-3 season! And last year they took the county title away from Shades Valley for the first time in 20 years.

Not bad, but they could go a lot faster if they would use all four legs like us dogs.

Yes, but remember we are a much higher form of life from those "dumb animals."

I guess, but I couldn't jump as far as that broad jumper.

Yes, I guess so. What time is it?

I don't know. What do you think I am, a watch dog?

Well, it's time for me to get my master. See you at the vet Thursday.

Buc's Slide Into New Baseball Season

This is the first baseball game I've been to.

I go to them all; it's fun.

The stands are so far away; I can't see anyone's face.

Like WHOSE face, huh?

Well . . . Who's pitching today?

Fuller, Galloway pitched a great game the other day. Rusty doesn't look like a pitcher, but Sheffield said he had a great fast ball; all he has to do is put his weight be-

I hope the field is okay. The boys' gym classes spent enough time working on it.

Stover is catching a good game. Is there anything he doesn't play?

Not much. Here comes John Baumgartner up to bat. He's supposed to be a real slugger.

Yeah, he and Wayne Jobe did a great job at the plate last

Why do you keep hiding your face when anybody walks by?

Well, I snuck in.

I want . . . hold it, you don't have to pay at a baseball

Oh! Well, I thought . . .

Shut up and watch the game. Did you see that catch Lawrence Logan made?

Yeah, and he got it to Ralph Sanderson at 3rd in time to make the out.

Game's over. Where are you going?

I've got to do something about the splinter I got out of these dumb seats.

Oh, excuse me, I'll see you later.

Girl's Put Another One Over

All right girls, this is going to be the best girl's volleyball team Berry has ever seen! Yes, Mrs. Mac.

I thought that this was the first volleyball team.

It is . . . Umm, Umm, Mrs. Mac, I can't be on . . .

Quiet! Now you girls are going to have to work, work, work. We don't have a regular schedule like boys sports but we can be just as good.

Yes, Mrs. Mac.

Mrs. Mac, I really should leave!

Tell that shorthaired girl to shut up! Now because we are girls we have to learn not to worry about boys and how we look . . .

But, Mrs. Mac.

We have to forget that we are Junior and Senior girls . . .

But, Mrs. Mac.

And work! All right girls go get in your P.E. suits so that we can practice.

But, Mrs. Mac.

Quiet and get in there — What is all that noise and screaming in the dressing room? It's that boy you sent in there!

Recognition

You know, I wish there was some way we could give some special recognition to our senior athletes.

I know what you mean. All the team members have worked hard, but it would really be nice to be able to give those seniors an extra thank you before they leave.

I know everybody feels that way, but someone needs to say something about it.

Hey, maybe they'll do something about it in the annual.

The purpose for this meeting of the Senior Class is to announce the "Who's Who." We have voted and hopefully elected the people who will best represent our Senior Class. The first category is Friendliest Boy . . .

It's Kneeland. Hey, that's great! You said it! He always brightens things up.

Without Kneeland and his guitar, our assemblies wouldn't be the same.

I don't see how Lane can always be so cheerful after all she's been through. She just has a great personality, and the Senior Class recognized it.

Hey, Mal, you ready to go make another announcement?

Come on, Mal, don't you know this announcement's important?

Don't you want to support the basketball team?

Aw, come on Mal, we've got to make this announcement!

Well, O.K. I only regret that I have but one life to give for the basketball team.

Oh, no! Janet's gonna try to teach us another cheer. This is how it goes - Bucs have go-o-o power! bomp bomp bomp . . .

Did you know that Melanie is President of the French National Honor

Yeah, that doesn't surprise me. Did you know that Melanie was "Senior of the Month" in the CROW'S NEST?

Yeah, that doesn't surprise me.

Did you know that Melanie breaks up her economics class every day?

Yeah, that doesn't surprise me. How come that doesn't surprise you?

Because she's "All bright!"

Hey, did you see the group picture where Mike is standing in the water? Sure did! I don't know about being witty, but he sure was wet!

Richard, bring me my shoes!

Hey, Flash, throw the ball over here!

Come on, Richard. Help me with my equipment.

Hey, Richard, will you . . . Richard . . . RICHARD! Hey, you guys, Flash passed out, bring on the Gator-Ade!

A.F.S. has really gotten to be an important part of Berry. This is the third year for us to have foreign exchange students.

Yeah, and as president of the club, Beth really has done a great job!

Did you see Rusty make that touchdown last night?

Yeah. I can sure understand why Rusty's "Most Athletic."

On top of everything else, he got All-State.

That's good. Playing football like he does, he needs a good insurance policy.

Steve this is going to be the greatest tapping yet!

Yeah, with the special stage set-ting and our candles everybody's gonna be surprised.

Oh, no! Steve, Janet isn't back from the doctor yet.

We're short nine candles!

Mr. Galloway's started the music

But where's the speaker?

And we tried so hard to have a "unique" tapping . . .

Hey, Melissa, can you help me get my hair fixed?

Oh, sure, just a minute - who's got the cat? Don't let him go, we'd never get him back.

Melissa, Tom needs his tux. Oh, hi, Tom. Tom, you're wearing a yellow shirt!

Yeah, don't you like it?

No! I mean, well, yes. But you're supposed to wear a WHITE shirt with a tux. Who has the balloons? Don't let go - they'll pop!
Melissa, my tie is crooked.
Just tape it!

Melissa, can you help me with these gloves?

Okay Melissa, your picture is next. Have you had time to get ready?

I wonder why Susan got "Most Unpredictable?"

Are you kiddin'? You wouldn't ask if you'd seen her the day we took "Who's Who" pictures. We couldn't keep her out of the trash can!

Hey, I heard that Elvis Presley made an appearance at the Christmas assembly. Yeah, but he was in the form of Tim Lundy.

What is it about some people that makes you know they're going to succeed? Well, look at Don. He won a $1,000 Savings Bond for his Civitan speech. Yeah, he's the type of guy that really gets places.

And Jeannie! She's president of F.S.A. and was selected an Outstanding Teenager at Berry.

(TOP) Most Unpredictable - Susan Powers, Tim Lundy. (TOP RIGHT) Most Likely to Succeed - Don Darnall. (RIGHT) Best Dressed - Gary Peek.

Do you remember when we took Patricia Black's picture for Miss Senior Class?

Yeah, that was really a panic! We told her what to wear, but we forgot to mention her shoes. I thought I'd die when she came walking in barefooted!

He's good lookin'! Who is he?

That's Mike Thompson.

He really gets around, doesn't he? Here he comes again.

No. What's the matter with you? That's his twin, Mark.

Gary Peek must have the tuffest looking clothes of any boy at Berry.

of any boy at Berry.

Well, he's "Best Dressed" – all the way down to his Corvette.

I know where Debra gets the money for all those good-lookin' clothes.

Where's that?

She won the pot at basketball games two weeks in a row!

(TOP LEFT) Best Looking – Patricia Black, Mark Thompson, Mike Thompson. (LEFT) Best Dressed – Debra Langston. (ABOVE) Most Likely to Succeed – Jeannie Hale.

And I'll tell you, Judy doesn't limit her spirit to one school. She's ready to make the change from Big Orange to War Eagle.

Jeff has a unique way to show his school spirit.

Isn't he president of Brown Cow?
Yes, and you remember the plane that flew over the pep rally before the Shades Valley game. I guess it did the trick!

Our Most Talented seniors are great musicians.

Yeah, I heard Rick's band at the March of Dimes assembly and Suzanne sings at the Guest House.

Von, how can we end this "Who's Who" section?

How about using that prayer that Kay gave on the morning that "Who's Who" was announced?
Yeah, that's a great idea. How did it go?

Kay said, "Our Heavenly Father, for all the special people who make this school what it is, we give you our thanks. Amen."

That was a good project. We'll have a big drive in January for the March of Dimes. Remember Sissy from "Family Affair" came to tell us about Teen Action Program and Go Mod Day? We've had so many good things this year. I'll bet we have a fabulous Buccaneer Week. I can't wait! I'm gonna give so many girls so much trouble. Like Susan and Debbie and Nancy and Beverly and . . . For the third meeting in a row we will dispense with the reading of the minutes. Now we will have a report about Operation Pride.

The Pride packages have been lost in the mail for two months, but are finally here.

We've already sold 100 so that leaves only 900 more to sell. Good Luck! Monthly reports are due today.

Groan.

When is the Galleylopper, Miss Willoughby? I mean, Mrs. Taylor.

We'll worry about that when we come to it.

I move we adjourn.

Adjourn! The meeting just started. Now let's get down to business.

Why do we meet every 1st and 3rd Monday? Couldn't we get by with just one meeting a month?

I.C.C. has a big job coordinating the activities of all the clubs so two meetings a month are badly needed.

My club would like to join Inter-Club Council. I brought our constitution to be approved.

The constitution seems to be fine. Is there any discussion?

If we hurry and accept the constitution, can we leave?

Good idea. I move we accept the constitution and then adjourn. The 'ayes' have it. Let's go home.

Hi! What are you doing out here?

I'm the parking lot monitor this period.

Gosh! Just look at all the orange pennants on the car antennas. Everybody in the school must have bought one.

Yeah, that was a Key Club project. We also washed the windows of all the teachers' cars. And if you'll note the shine on my shoes, that is a Key Club shine.

Hey, I can see myself!

Yeah, and it's two weeks old.

The Key Club has been doing a lot. Now that football season is over, and you don't have to sell tickets every week or paint the "B" on the field, you have time for other stuff.

That reminds me; would you like to buy a ticket to the Interact-Key Club dance, featuring the Blues?

I've already got a ticket. But I've got to go now. See ya' later.

Where do you think you're going? It's just 4th period.

Oh, come on. Let me leave. I just can't take anymore today.

Dong! Dong! Meeting come to order.

But, Don, we're not ready yet.

Now, tonight we're going to finish our business as quickly as possible. We don't have any time to waste, so we'll try to end everything up real quick. I know most of you have physics tests tomorrow; at least I do!

Our trip to Partlow was a great success this year. We spent $400 on presents for the kids there and gave them a $860 check for the Partlow Summer Camp Fund. This is a total of near $1300, as compared with last year's total of $500. After you turn in your money for the Christmas candles, we'll have enough to send three people to Searcy, Arkansas, instead of just two. We won't have to sell any more doughnuts!

Yea! I can't believe it!

Now, next Saturday we're going to paint the underneath part of the steps in the social studies building. And Monday after school everybody bring your brooms to sweep the glass out of the Senior parking lot.

That's right. Since our club started "Operation Pride" at Berry, we ought to show that we do have the most pride in our school!

American Field Service

For those of you who didn't meet the exchange students during the summer, I'd like to introduce Suzy Montaldo and Maria Pityriga.

You mean we finally raised enough money to get them here? Of course we had enough money. We only sold candy, student directories, Christmas cards, and Friendship Bonds.

A.F.S. really keeps us busy.

We wouldn't have been able to do all of this without Mrs. Rankin's help.

She's a wonderful sponsor and helps A.F.S. stay one of the most active clubs at Berry.

What is the main purpose of the American Field Service?

The A.F.S. tries to create international friendship and understanding. We've had students from a lot of countries. About 60 countries send students to the United States.

Why don't we send a student from Berry to another country? June McGlamery will live abroad if a family can be found to keep her.

It's always hard to find families. Berry hit it lucky and found two families. We might not be so fortunate next year.

Suzy Montaldo and her American sister, Dale Helmbold.

FIRST ROW: Karen Scobey, Deanna Baudelier, Carol Wilson, Lucy Ray, Joy Tater, Martha Chancey, Lindsay Parsons, Sandi Johns, Karen Jones, Lyn Lanier, Angela Catledge, Jody Hallmon, Carol Kay Carson, Betsy Albright, Esther Piazza, Maria Pityriga, Kathy Plan. Maria Pityriga and her American sister, Lyn Lanier.

When the stewardess in the plane told us "Birmingham," I felt nervous and a little bit scared, like when you take off the first ribbon of a present.

Great! In the airport was my family and a group of girls with a big poster that said "Welcome, Susana." It was the first thing that showed me how friendly and hospitable are the people in Birmingham. All the way home, I enjoyed looking at beautiful houses.

After a few days, I began another interesting adventure — Berry, "the School." Everything was perfect except the people spoke English. This weird language brought me much trouble, but I learned to love it, anyway. To talk about English for me is to talk about my family, my teachers, my friends trying to understand and help me. But especially, it reminds me of Mrs. Swindle asking me all the time, "Suzy, tell me the new verbs you learned today."

Coming to America is something really exciting that I will always remember!
-Suzy Montaldo

The idea to come here was like a dream to me. It was almost impossible because of the many problems. But the love of learning and curiosity won. I came here and a new life started. Everything is so different, the way of life, the school, the situation between the people.

In the first days everything was excitement, interesting. New country, new people, new customs: I was very happy, enthusiastic; but first of all, I was confused. I did not know what I was doing and why. But the time passed, day by day, and it gave the answers to my questions.

I love the American people because they are so simple, so friendly. I never had trouble living with them. Their love gave me the courage to continue what I had already started, and this is the purpose of my trip.

I am very lucky to go to a school like Berry. Its great football team, its marching band, the choir, the clubs, the assemblies, the activities make me feel proud to be a student. I thank everybody who was good, friendly, and helpful to me and especially A.F.S. which made me able to come here and have this wonderful experience.

-Maria Pityriga

French Honor Society

Moving right along, we need to talk about the "12th Night Dinner."

What's that?

All GOOD French students should know what the "12th Night Dinner" is!

Well, I don't! I'm just a French student.

The French people always celebrate on the 12th night after Christmas.

Let's have the French chef from "The Club" cook the dinner.

No, I like Mrs. Rankin's French cooking. Besides, it is cheaper than hiring a professional.

Moving right along, I think we'll wait until the next meeting to decide. When are we having the spring tapping?

Let's invite the new members to join by letter. Then they can come to the "12th Night Dinner" for the installation.

We have to vote to make it democratic.

O.K., it passes. Meeting adjourned. See you at the dinner.

This dinner is great. What are these red things, "Savage Apples?"

What are we supposed to say again?

Read the motto and pass the candle down the row.

But you know I can't speak French.

Oh, oh, that candle is dripping all over my hand.

Un, deux, trois . . .

Guess what! The picture of our adopted boy came yesterday. His name is Sung Kuo-Ching and he lives in Taiwan.

Let's make him a Christmas card. We can send him money for his present.

Better sell lots of donuts to raise the money.

I know two missionaries to Taiwan. They can show slides. I'm looking forward to fun at the French Convention this year. Everyone going?

The University really swings when our group gets there. Right Stroup?

As Treasurer Club of the state, we sure put the money to good use. What a party!

I can't wait till our pastry party this spring.

I gain weight just thinking about it. The new officers will be installed at this party.

German Club

Does anyone have any float ideas?

I'm thirsty. Why don't we have refreshments at our meetings. Everytime we talk about Homecoming I think of coke floats, Why don't we make a gigantic coke float and call it "The German Club Float."

Oooo, what korn!

We need to do a project for the school.

Let's clean out the football stadium.

Man, do you believe in hard labor.

Our program tonight is about Germany.

It's about time we have a speaker related to our club. We are supposed to be an interest club but sometimes I wonder what our interest is! Ha ha!

I think we should draw the 12 Days of Christmas for the lunchroom wall. We'll let our president draw it and then the rest of us can help paint it.

I'm not a very good painter. I can't stay in the lines.

I guess you better just hang it up. We'll never get honorable mention that way!

Latin Club

Villa est parva! Now isn't that exciting?!

What'd you say?

The house is small. It's Latin.

Hail! Julius Caesar!

Oh, knock it off. I've got to get this translation done by 7th period.

Do you meet any Latin lovers in the Latin Club?

Sure, lots of them. I have to beat 'em off with a stick, and I have a translation to do.

Who did the Latin Club put in the Beauty Walk?

Carol Wilson and Sue Pierson, and I have a translation to do.

Ya'll got first place in Christmas decorations with the Santa Claus on the mural, didn't you?

Yes, and I have a translation to do.

Don't you have a big trip someplace in the spring?

The Latin Convention, and I have a translation to do.

Oh my goodness, there's the bell.

Did you finish your Latin homework?

No, and I HAD a translation to do.

I hope she doesn't talk in Spanish.
Why not? This is the Spanish Club.
Yeah, but Spanish is my worst subject.
Are there any suggestions for future programs?
Why don't we have Mr. Hartman show his slides?
Don't you see enough slides in Spanish class?
Not me. That's the day I go to sleep!

Mrs. Carpenter, my name is Ann and I'm going to work in the library for the rest of the year this period.

Oh good, we're always glad to have more help. Do you know the Dewey Decimal System? Oh, excuse me, here comes that boy again . . . Now, son, did you bring a pass this time?

But Mrs. Carpenter -

I told you, you must have a pass from your teacher.

Yes, ma'm but -

No BUTS about it! . . . All right, dear, do you know the Dewey Decimal System?

Yes, Ma'am.

Well, good. That's a good start. Right now, though, I need you to help us take down the Christmas decorations. We won a prize, you know . . . Here comes that same boy — again! . . . Son, I have already told you, you cannot come into the library without a pass or I'll have to send you to Mr. Smith.

Oh, boy! Am I glad that debate is over! Do you think anybody could tell it was my first one? I don't know. When you said, "Let me tell you what's wrong with the affirmative plan . . . it won't work," that might have given somebody a hint. Well, the judge smiled.

He smiled when the second affirmative fainted, too. When I debated for the first time, the judge practically fell out of his chair laughing. But the first time is always bad. You'll do better next time.

Sure, when you're at the bottom, there's no place to go but up!

Forensic Club

We're going to do extemporaneous speeches today in speech, and I'm scared. I don't think on my feet too well.

I didn't know that you took speech. Are you in the Forensic Club?

Yeah, did you know that we had a great Homecoming float, but our truck broke down so it didn't get in the parade. We were SO disappointed.

Oh, well, that's the way the cookie crumbles.

That was a little bit of bad luck. But we aren't giving up. We were represented in the Beauty Walk by Lyndal Myrick, and we'll have a skit for the Galleylopper. And there's always the Easter Egg Hunt.

By the way, what is an extemporaneous speech?

That's when you are given a topic to speak on and you don't have time to prepare. Topics like "How to Retread Tennis Shoes" and "The Life of a Geranium."

You've got to be kidding!

I wish I was!

Art Club

Guess what? The Art Club float took first place at Homecoming. So what else is new? We win every year.

Yeah, and we always win in the Galleylopper, too.

I know, and we have a blast at every meeting, especially with Benje as Sgt.

Yeah, he was Santa Claus in our Christmas decorations. Those decorations we did really should have won.

The ones we did for the Vestavia Civic Center were better.
We sure did work hard before Christmas. I'm glad in a way that it's all over.
Over! Now we have to start working on our float and banners for the Festival of Arts in the spring.

(LOWER LEFT) Mrs. Sellers. (LOWER RIGHT) Mrs. Buchannon.

Music Club

This sure looks like a good way to spend activity period. Yeah, we're bound to have a lot of laughs with Mr. Rosser and his jokes.

I don't remember seeing you in choir.

Choir? I'm in the band. Anyone interested in music can join the club.

I bet our float is one of the best.

But are you sure we can get a truck?

We've already paid the deposit. Oh, hi, Joe!

Guess what? We don't have a truck.

I thought we did.

Nope. They gave it to somebody else. There goes our brilliant float idea.

Save it for next year.

Let's get Mr. Rosser to tell us a joke. Maybe that will cheer us up.

Drama Club

I got the part! I got the part! What part? What are you talking about? I got a part in the spring play.

Well congratulations! But I'm not surprised. You're all ham at heart. I'm excited about it.

I guess so. Doesn't the Drama Club sponsor it?

Yes, and that's not all we do.

Remember the skit we did at a pep rally? And we'll have one in the Galleylopper, too. But we're just amateurs. We have professional theatrical people talk to us for our programs at some of our meetings. And we do the same things other clubs do. Wathan Williams and Penny Palmer represented us in the Beauty Walk and we decorated the Senior Patio for Christmas. But the play is the big deal.

Well, congratulations again. I'll see you later. Exit, stage right.

Choir

Gosh, Bill, why aren't you in the choir this year?

I wanted to be, but my schedule kept me from taking it. You should be in it. We have so much fun in there. Mr. Rosser is always coming up with one of his corny jokes. And best of all, we just took a trip to Gatlinburg.

Oh, I wish I could have gone.

It was great! We were there from Friday to Sunday, skiing all the time.

It sounds like ya'll have fun all the time in choir. Oh, well, it's not all fun. At times we really have to work hard – like before our Christmas concert. We had to learn all those songs and rehearse how to go on and off the stage.

Yeah, I came to that concert. That was when the bell choir was there from Dawson Baptist Church. I've never heard anything so beautiful. The choir really put me in the Christmas spirit. Oh, there's the bell. I'm gonna be late!

Me, too!

Good grief! It's cold out here. Why do they have to have parades on a day like this? Nobody in his right mind is going to stand out here in this weather!

Well, it's a parade for the astronauts. And they're really something. Just look! You know what this makes

What?

Summer practice. I don't know which is worse — this cold or the heat. During those two weeks I had more nightmares. Somebody kept saying, "Big step off," "Pick those feet up," and "Drums!"

Oh, don't remind me!

Which way did the band go?

I was beginning to think football was a year round sport. How many games did we play for?

I don't know. I lost count at ten. But, I wouldn't have had it any other way. That's true. We had fun too. Remember "Plume Flash -1, 2, 3," and "Boom Boom Figgy Wah."

Yeah, and we teased Mr. Sharp because there was a guy on Minor's team who was almost as big as he is.

And at the Valley game we played "Hurrah for Berry" 11 times in a row. Remember when we practiced for the Dental Clinic game. It was so muddy you'd think we had just gone through the monsoon season.

Well, you have to take into consideration that it was Shades Valley's field. Good point. Hey, the parade's about to start. What are we playing first? Hope it's a hot piece. I could use some warming up.

Oh, cool it!

Home Economics Club

Hello. I'd like to find out something about the club that meets in here. Could you help me out?

Sure. We're a very active club. We won 2nd place for our Homecoming float. It looked fabulous! We planned a good Galleylopper skit for the spring. At Christmas time we had a country store to raise money. Then we gave a party for the children at Elyton Day Nursery. We even had a Santa Claus - James McLeod. He did a real good job, except his beard wouldn't stay on.

This sounds like a great club. How can I join?

You want to join?

Yes.

You're sure?

Yes. Why don't you want me?

Oh, yes! It's just that you'll be the first boy to ever join.

What club is this? The Home Ec Club.

Good grief! I thought this was the Art Club!

No, that's on the other side of the building. My goodness, the girls are going to hate me for letting you get away!

Interact

Hey, man! Where'd you get that freaky orange hat?

The Interact Club here at school is selling these to promote school spirit here in Big Orange Country. Would you like to buy one?

I'm new here, but I didn't realize this school had so much school spirit.

Here, put this on your head, put your money in my hand and I will take you on a guided tour of Berry High School. First, this is the Senior patio.

Gosh! a fountain.

Compliments of Interact.

These steps go to the Senior high building, don't they?

Yes. Let's go down there. Check out all the clean blackboards. Compliments of Interact.

What's that bright orange building out there?

The building is storage, the bright orange is Compliments of Interact.

Laura, those pigtails will have to go!

FIRST ROW: Mike Thompson, Steve Sheffield, Hayden Williams, Ralph Sanderson, Robbie Wilson, Steve Wolbach, Russell Jones, Mike Galloway, Sterling Shaw, Richard May, Mike Vaughn, Lyndon McCavitt, Philip Arnold. SECOND ROW: Chuck Clark, Haynes Horne, Wayne Jobe, Tommy Hodges, Dale Barr, Laura Owen, Harry Caldwell, Tommy Lamb, Gary Beard, Tim Wuska, John Rutledge, Dave Acton, Mark Thompson, Doug Holmes. THIRD ROW: Brad Wash, Frank O'Neil, Tommy Gester, Kim Dorsey, Jeff Bramlett, Bob Pettigrew, Wayne Allen, Mike Cartee, Bill Gregory, Mal Beckham, Scott Butzloff, Tommy Williams, Steve Dunlap, Otto Carter.

SPONSOR: Mr. Kidd.

Now let's go out this door and this building is our gym. The team room is down there just in case you're interested in athletics. The benches in the team room were painted Compliments of Interact. We also painted the walls of the dressing rooms at Wald Park.

Where's the stadium?

We're coming to that now. The Visitors' bleachers and the scoreboard are freshly painted Compliments of Interact.

There's the bell!

Oh, there's a basketball game tonight, free program, concession stand will be open . . .

No, wait, don't tell me; Compliments of Interact! Yea. Oh, by the way, would you like to buy a ticket to the Key Club-Interact Dance featuring the Blues?

He did it!

Math Club

Well, fans, I guess the meeting should come to order. What math puzzles are we playing with tonight?

I want the answers to last meeting's brain teasers. I still haven't figured them out.

Did you ask your third grade brother?

Our Christmas decorations looked good.

Too bad our flame blew out.

Yeh, but that's the way the candle flickers!

When do we visit a computer?

I think we should wait until after Christmas.

Do you think it can get me a date?

Are you kidding? Once your card goes through, the computer will be ruined for life.

Kind of like computer scheduling, huh!

How many students will make Mu Alpha Theta this year? That's a hard Honor Society to get into with the math teachers we have at Berry.

Did you say something, Miss Bailey? Good idea. Meeting adjourned!

Future Scientists of America

Look at all the students interested in chemistry.

Our club may be big, but at least that way we can do a lot. Mrs. Huffman, will the club be able to take a field trip this year? I'd like for us to go to Huntsville to Redstone Arsenal. The secretary will have to write a letter to find out when it's convenient.

I think we should talk about our Homecoming float. Any suggestions? How about "Put a Tiger in Your Test Tube?"

That sounds like an "original" idea.

Maybe not, but at least it advertises chemistry.

O.K., we'll try your idea. Who knows; we might even win fifth place. Christmas is coming up. Don't forget to buy the presents for the exchange students.

We could give them chemistry sets to play with.

No, they might blow up something. We'll have to buy something practical.

How about annual covers?

Not for Christmas! We sell those in the spring.

Oh boy! I can't wait. This is my year to be the number one salesman.

Bank at Berry

This morning we have to elect a bank teller for our homeroom. I'll do it. I've been the teller for my homeroom for four years. Are you sure you still remember what to do?

Who wants to open an account? All it takes is a dime.
I lost my passbook. I sure hate to lose all that money.
How much did you have deposited?
Twenty cents.
Twenty cents?!

Yeah, that's enough to buy a popsickle and four rolls. I can't believe it! Everyone in our homeroom banked today. Here's your banner for 100% Banking. Congratulations!

Future Teachers of America

Listen, because I have an important announcement to make. Due to extentuating circumstances, we will not sell subscriptions to the SHADES VALLEY SUN this year. We have a new, original idea — we're going to sell doughnuts.

Oh, yeah, that's really new and different!

We need to start making money now. We've already given $100 to the March of Dimes, plus supporting those families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. We have to work now for money for our spring banquet and the $500 scholarships we give in the spring.

Thursday the seniors will teach at the grade schools.

Oh, boy, that's fun! But I never will forget the day I was trying to teach the Quadratic formula, my feet were killing me, and those kids would not keep quiet! Now, I know what teachers have to go through!

Brown Cow Club

Hey, Bob?

Yeah, Fred?

What is that coming down the street at us? It appears to be a Brown Cow. Now that's not something you see every day. Let's ask him where he's going.

Hey, cow!

Uh, yes? Where are you going?

Hey, man, I'm going to the "Spook-out."
May I ask why you're dressed like that in a Brown Cow outfit?

There're going to be lot's of Brown Cows there.

Is that like the Elks or something?

Elks?! Let me tell you about the Brown Cows. They're members of a club at Berry that does things like charter an airplane for a pep rally and put a sign saying "Go Big Orange" on it. And they crack jokes over the intercom in the mornings that liven up everybody's day. Now that you're an educated person, would you like to come along with me to the "Spook-out?" It really doesn't matter if you carry those trick-or-treat bags.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

It's 7:30, let's go on in and get a good seat!

It's time for the meeting to come to order. Excuse me, ladies, but we really must start. As soon as they leave, we'll get down to business.

But Doug . . .

Today our meeting should last about 30 minutes. We'll start by calling roll . . . O.K., we have about 29 minutes and 30 seconds left.

Girls, are you still here? I don't think you understand. Only members can come to the meeting.

Isn't this the F.C.A. meeting?

Yes, but . . .

Well, isn't the purpose of this club to promote Christian attitudes among athletes? Isn't membership open to all members of the athletic program?

Yes, but . . .

Well, I play volleyball and that makes me an athlete.

Yes, but . . .

And I'm on the team and that makes me a member of the athletic program.

Yes, but . . .

So here I am to promote Christian attitudes.

Junior High Honor Society

What is this assembly for? And why did we have to get all dressed up?

It's the Jr. Honor Society's tapping.

Oh, all those schoolies. What do they ever do?

Well, they had a Christmas decoration that looked real good. And they sold donuts to make some money.

And they're all a bunch of schoolies who never have any fun. Oh, I don't think so. My best friend is in it, and she says they have a lot of fun. They're starting the tapping. Oh, I'm excited. Big deal!

I didn't know that boy was smart. He's in my English class, and he certainly doesn't act like it.

Well, you just never can tell.

Look! Somebody's coming over here. I wonder who they're after. I don't see any likely candidates around here. Do you? YOU?! You're getting tapped?! Well, I never!

Who says we don't have any fun?

FACULTY

Our Principal, Mr. John Edwards

Hey, Joe, I saw a teacher in the lunchroom send you and Don to the office yesterday. What happened?

Well, you know Mary?

Yeah.

Well, she brought some grapes for lunch and while she went to get some milk, Don and I swiped them. Then we started throwing them at Bill, who was way across the lunchroom, and just as we aimed one right for Bill, a teacher walked by him and - uh - it kind - of missed Bill and hit the teacher right in the eye! Well, the teacher couldn't help seeing who threw it - so . . .

You mean?

Yep. She sent me to THE man, and boy, was I scared. But underneath, I guess he's really a nice guy.

Why do you say that?

Well, first he told me that I could have hurt somebody by throwing grapes and that if it ever happened again, he would have to suspend me.

I don't get it. He threatened to suspend you and you think he's a nice guy? Oh – it wasn't that. It was what I heard him mutter under his breath when I was leaving his office.

What was that?

He said, "Hmmmm, grapes . . . in my day it was spitballs."

(ABOVE) How many times have I told you never to call me at the office?

(ABOVE) Dear Santa,

(BELOW) If I can't play, give me my ball and I'll go home!

(ABOVE) Somebody spiked the iced tea!

Assistant Principals

Mr. Richard Lovelady and Mr. Allen Smith

Next . . . Oh, it's you again. You know, John, this is only the fifth time you have been in my office today for being late. What is it this time?

Well, it's like this – after class, I went to my locker where I saw Mary and then I walked Marsha to class, and since I was so thirsty, I decided to go to the lunchroom, where I ran into Susan and Gail and then I...

Yeah, yeah, I know. And yesterday, it was Janet, Dianne and Jeanne. The period before that it was Leslie, Jane, Becky and Melanie. John, I could go on and on. Don't you ever run out of girls?

Frankly, no. And it's sad, too. I'm a miserable victim of my own irresistible charm.

(ABOVE) I've got to get out of this corner!

(ABOVE) May I be excused? (LEFT) Mr. Smith DOES smile, too!

Guidance Counselors

Excuse me, I was wondering if you could help me decide where to go to college.

Sure! Let's have a look at your grades. Hmmmm . . . Why in the world did you take chemistry? You could have gotten in the Honor Society if you hadn't taken chemistry.

I had planned to be a doctor.

Oh, I see. Now where do you want to go to school?

Well, I'm kind of debating between Harvard and Yale.

Young lady!

Well, it was just a passing thought. How does the University of Alabama sound? They have a good medical school.

Are you sure you don't want to be a vet? You could go to Auburn then.

But I want to be a doctor!

Or maybe you would like to go to Georgia Tech and be an engineer? No ma'am, I want to be a doctor!

How about Florida State or Samford or Mississippi State or Judson? I just thought I'd mention a few since you aren't sure what field you want to go into.

But I am sure! I want to go into medicine!

Oh, then by all means, don't let me make up your mind for you . . . If you only hadn't taken chemistry . . . Maybe you'd better not count on being an engineer . . .

Office Staff

May I check out? I have a dentist appointment.

Yes, but I'll have to have a note of permission from your parents. Well, I don't have one.

Then give me your phone number. I'll have to call and check this with your parents.

Well - uh - my parents are out of town.

Then what is your dentist's name?

Why do you need to know that?

So we can call and check your appointment.

Uh - in that case, I don't think I remember his name. Anyway, the dentist can just hang it up! I'll go another day. I'm going back

Hey - little boy, why are you limping like that?

Well, I seemed to have sprained my ankle when I started out the office door. Oh, well, I guess I can't go back to class then, huh? Are you sure you hurt your foot?

Oh yes ma'am! Oh, it's killing me - ohhhh!

Let me see - your foot isn't hurt! I'm going to give you a pass and you go straight back to your class . . . (Thank goodness I'm rid of him! Oh no! here he comes again!) . . . What do you want THIS

I lost my geometry book and we're having a test tomorrow and this is the only period I have to find it.

My dear boy, WHY do you keep coming in here?

Well, that's my bag.

Your bag?

Yeah, I like to bother people.

English

There comes a time in everyone's life when he has to face his English class. Yes, but I don't think I'm ready. I hate myself when I don't study. I usually put it off till study hall, and then the prospect seems less than desirable. Hey, if you had an essay to write, what would you write it on?

This is indeed a perplexing problem. While pondering this in my mind, I find that I cannot bring myself to organize my thoughts in such a way that they might pertain to our course of study as presented in our book of fine literature. In conclusion, I state that when compelled only by a teacher's wishes, one's inspiration is lacking.

In other words, you didn't do your homework, did you?

(ABOVE) Well, the "Bear" says they're great!

My girdle is killing me!

Don, what are we supposed to see under the microscope?

Algae, I think. Then we have to identify it. Have you seen anything yet, Linda? Well, I'm not sure. Does algae have black lines on it?

I don't think so - let me look - Linda, that's the mascara off your eyelashes. Go get a lens tissue and wipe it off.

Now try again and maybe we'll see something . . . Do you see anything? Nah! Go ask the teacher to come help us.

Uh, excuse me, but . . .

Not now, Don, I'm busy with another student. Wait a minute and I'll be over to help you.

Is she going to help us, Don?

No, she's busy. Gosh, I wonder why we never find anything? Oh, good, here

Now, what seems to be your trouble?

We can't find the algae.

I think this might be the reason. Linda, why didn't you turn the light on? I'm sorry. I forgot. I guess that wasn't a very "bright" thing to do. There, that puts a little "light" on the subject, huh, Don?

Math

Dan, will you help me with this problem? I just can't seem to get the

Sure, Joe. It should be crip! I'll teach you the way MY teacher does it. See, first you divide the square root of this number by twenty-five. Then you immediately multiply that by seventy-two, square it and Well, that's not the way MY teacher did it! She divided the square root of this number by twenty-five. Then she immediately multiplied that by seventy-two, squared that and divided by zero. But, Joe, you can't divide by zero. Your teacher is wrong!

Yeah, I know. I tried to tell her, but you can't convince a teacher that she's wrong.

Well, what happened?

Aw, she kept telling me that I was wrong, and almost had me convinced, too, till one of the kids in the back of the room told her to look in her book to find out what the answer was.

Boy, did she turn red!

Social Studies

Class, today we are going to study the Communist take-over of Russia.

But, I thought we were studying American government.

We are, but we also have to study the outside influences on our system.

Hmmmm . . . she's a Communist. I can see it all now! Infiltration, propaganda, all of this is a Communist plot! stomp stomp stomp . . . Here they come. Knock knock knock . . . Who's there? Red. Red who? "Red" this conversation and thought it was a little ridiculous.

You said it! Now you can just sit quietly and talk or study for the rest of the period. I can see that this class is not ready for any deep thought or discussion. Silence is golden, but not when I'm depending on some response to take up class time. But you can talk among yourselves, now.

What's wrong with her? Is she sick? No, she got engaged last night.

Foreign Language

Well, here comes the age old question of the decade: Did you do your Latin homework?

No, and I can just hear it now. "Don't darken my door unless you've done your homework!"

Yeah, I've heard that before. On my last translation that I did in class, all I got was, "That was rotten!" and, "You don't know pea tur-

Well, let's go in and face it anyway.

Class, I'm just going to have to close these windows. Those trucks make so much noise, and they aren't even supposed to be on this highway.

But it will be so hot in here.

I've always told you. Don't wear anything to class that you can't take off. You can just strip! Then if you're still hot, you can just sizzle! Szzzzzzzzzzzzzz!

Now translate, You!

The villa is great.

Now, do you say, "The villa is great"? No, of course not! You say, "The villa is large." Try again.

"The villa is large. The courage of the man is large."

No, no! "The courage of the man is GREAT," not "large." But "magna" was translated "large" where I translated the sentence

That's in a different context. You are just plain not smart! Oh, murder!

I guess you see it too, huh? Latin IS dead.

Physical Education

Boy, I sure am glad we don't have to dress out today! Me, too, I need to do my English in here this period. Oh, no!

What's wrong?

I dropped my pen under the bleachers.

Oh, you can get it later. Hey, what are we doing in here next six weeks?

Modern dance, I think. But anything is better than the balance beam. Half of those stunts I couldn't do on the floor much less on a skinny little rail ten feet in the air!

I know what you mean. But my main trouble isn't the stunts; it's getting up there. You know how you swing your leg over the beam, then balance and stand up? Well, when my leg finally got enough power behind it to swing over, it took the rest of me with it, and I ended up on the floor on the other side!

Yeah, well, there's a little bit of uncoordination in all of us. True, but I seem to have more than my share. Say, I don't want to do my English. Let's go watch the boys work out on the weight machine.

No, I don't think I want to. Why not?

Well, the boy I like is over there.

So?

Well, he's working out because . . .

Because what?

Well - because I beat him at Indian wrestling the other day.

Art

Oh, Jeff, that's a painting! You do the most fabulous landscapes! I wish I had your talent!

Oh, it's nothing really. I do best the things I enjoy. That way, they usually turn out better than when I'm working with materials I don't enjoy. Water colors and landscapes are my favorites. Drawing also calms my nerves. It puts me in a better mood, too.

I guess it does. If I could draw like that I would be in a good mood, too. My drawings depress me. They're always so lousy, even when I think they are good. I look at yours and want to give up. Oh, Jeff, you are so wonderful!

Well, Jane, we each have a talent that we must use to the best of our abilities and not waste our time on trivial matters. Hey, Jane, where are you going? I was going to ask you out Saturday night . . . Jane?

Well, you said not to waste our time on trivial things and I'm taking your advice. I'm going where I'll enjoy the results the most . . . Oh hi, James! Gee, that's a beautiful painting! You have such talent and you use such long, sweeping strokes . . .

Speech and Dramatics

Ann, do you take dramatics?

No, but I used to take speech. Why?

Well, I was wondering if you could help me think of a pantomime that I could use in class today.

Sure! What period do you need it?

Next period.

Oh, that's great. Well, how about feeding your dog? No, I don't have a dog, so I don't know anything about that.

Well, maybe you could decorate a Christmas tree. No, that's out of season. Nobody would understand that.

Well, then, act like you are raking leaves.

No, I don't think so.

Try putting in a contact or mounting a horse or playing golf! Surely there's something you want to do! No, there isn't.

Well, why don't you just give up and check out! You know, I think that's the best idea you have had yet! See ya tomorrow!

Business

I'm going to be a terrible office worker. I can't type more than ten words a minute. I can't take shorthand and be able to read it back. I can't work an adding machine. I can't do bookkeeping. I can't play the part of a receptionist without blowing it. I can't answer the telephone without stuttering. I can't without stuttering. I can't . . .

Now, that's enough! A good office worker has ambition and an open mind and always tries hard. Above all the good office worker never says CAN'T

Very well, then, I can NOT type without looking at the typewriter. I can not . . .

Home Economics

I'm glad we are doing cooking this time. I don't especially like to sew. I do so many stupid things like putting the darts in on the wrong side of the material or forgetting to leave an opening in the side seam for the zipper.

As I recall, when we were in kitchen No. 2 together, you made some brilliant moves in cooking, too.

Well, just because you've done more cooking and sewing than I have, and just because you can do it a little better, you don't have to rub it in.

I'm sorry, don't get mad. Now that you are a second year home-ec. student, you know more about it, and this year will be more successful, I hope. You did finally learn how to heat milk, didn't you?

Yes, but it got burned a little. It had kind of a scorched taste.

When you get married, maybe you'd better hire a cook.

Why? Cooking is my favorite hobby. Hey, where are you going?

To see if I can withdraw from home-ec. this semester. A study hall might not be as creative, but it certainly is safer.

Hey Al, how come you're back in P.E.? I thought you tried out for band and choir.

Well, I did and I didn't.

What do you mean?

Well, I decided that I wouldn't try out for band since the only thing I can play is a kazoo, so I tried out for choir.

I don't see why you tried out for choir anyway. You can't sing.

Well, I just wanted an excuse to get out of P.E.

Yeah, I know what you mean.

I thought that it was gonna be crip, and the tryouts were. But the first day I walked in, he said, and I quote, "I hope you new people aren't in here just to get out of P.E. because everybody in here works or out he goes!" So here I am.

Distributive Education, Drivers Education, Mechanical Drawing

Hey, Don, can I have a ride home today? Sorry, Stan, I leave after fifth period and work.

Oh, really? Where?

At my mother's beauty shop.

You're kidding, I hope.

No, I'm not. I have to unload things that she uses, like shampoo and hair color and things like that. But I'm thinking about quitting that and dropping out of school to join the Navy. How does that sound for excitement?

Well, Don, I thought you wanted to be a biochemist. That's your ambition. Stick to it.

You are right. I'll stay in school and become a biochemist, then eventually, I'll probably marry.

That's a fine life, huh Stan?

Go join the Navy.

I realize that this is your first driving lesson, Mary, but be calm and relax. You'll do fine. Now, let me check my safety precautions: crash helmet, check; seat belt, check; shoulder harness, check; emergency brake, check. Well, I guess we are ready to go. OK, put the key in the ignition. The ignition, Mary, not the glove compartment and turn on the engine.

Engine, I love you.

Mary!

OK, OK, I'll start the car.

Now, put the car in drive and slowly press down the accelerator. Go straight until you get to the corner and slowly turn. SLOWLY, Mary, SLOWLY! You see that stop sign down there?

Yes, sir.

OK, now, just before you get there, begin to brake.

Which one is the brake?

OH NO! Face it, it's hopeless, and anyway, I don't think you are advanced enough for this sort of thing. Just change places with me and I'll drive. Let's see, you put the key here and you put your foot on this one...

I give up. I'll never make it as an engineer. I used to think about how great it would be to construct complicated things. Now, I don't think I could draw a straight line using a ruler.

Yes, I know. It's not as simple as I thought, but what gets me is that one girl in our class. She does better than any of us guys. Have you ever seen any of her constructions?

Sure, and what a construction!

Cool it, Jim. Concentrate on your work. Where are you going now? To see if she'll help me with my drawings. Maybe she could help me with my "homework."

Well, Jim, what did she say?

Oh, well, back to the old drawing board.

Oh, no, ma'am.

I'm so hungry! What are we having for lunch on the 35¢ side today? Pork chops and rice and something else. I've forgotten what it is.

What do they have on the other side?

Corn dogs, I think.

Save my place in line and I'll go see . . . yep, it's corn dogs. I'm afraid I'm not very hungry today. I'll just get some orange juice. I'm on a diet anyway. Good grief! You don't need to lose any weight. How much DO you weigh, just for the record?

Well, I really don't want to tell you.
Oh, come on! I won't tell!

Well, I guess it wouldn't hurt. Right!

Oh, around ninety-two pounds.

John, got a new Toyota 2000 G.T. for Christmas.

I wish I had a sports car, but Mother and Daddy trust Chevrolets.

So?

They went to DRENNEN and surprised me with a new car last night!

I have got to have some milk to wash down this cake.
I'll drink to that!

The end result is more than just a building. It indicates your team's ability, your client's progress, and gives evidence of future goals.

Robins is proud of these buildings, for they express present success and indicate an eagerness to meet the future and what it holds.

The construction industry is an exciting challenge to young individuals of vision. For those who qualify, the rewards are great. Talk to us at Robins about a promising future for you.

Here it is – the last week of school and do you know what that crazy English teacher of mine assigned us? An expository paper on "What This Year Has Been To Me."

Ooo – that could be hard.

Yeah, well, I'm finished now.

Here, let me read some of it.

"This has been a year to prepare ourselves for the future by striving for further knowledge, by achieving the understanding of working with others, and by dedicating our very essence to a common goal. This has been a year of learning to accept our failures along with our triumphs.

"This has been a year of expressing ourselves ...

"Now the year has brought the end of yesterday and the beginning of tomorrow. We leave the shadow of the past with a faint look behind and walk forward into the future."

De de Contra de Derry, It was ween your in History considering the had fine Cleachers. I'm glad you we going to bearey This summer - it 'el he alat of fun. I hope we have alot of closed to gether with but and God he with Jerry west was selections and the course the second source of the second the always first have the you mere year have been year man Jerya ment Year. Lerry (Terry) It's heart a lot of fun in Mrs. Tidwell's class she gave us a lot of laughs. Too bad we away taking notin II so we could enjoy her even longer I hope we re in some af the same classes meet year. Have fun thes summer and raise heck Be good and may God Bless yo, Love

Jerry - this has been Some year. You are so dumb! Really. You're quite a guy and I've enjoyed knowing you! Man-you are really a cool guy! I'll have to admit that you are slow in somethings, but it also takes me a while to catch on sametimes. Don't ever forget our English class - (how could you and homeroom and hunch-study, too! well, have tun this summer. Be good I stay out of trouble.
